

CML's 94th Annual Conference June 21 - 24, 2016 Vail, Colorado

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenter, not of CM.

Handling Conflicts at Governing Body Meetings

Tami A. Tanoue General Counsel/Deputy Executive Director, CIRSA June 22, 2016

Described of the second by which the second to second the

Introduction

- Citizens think of "City Hall" and associated facilities as "belonging" to them
- Citizens are accustomed to a high degree of access to and responsiveness/transparency from their local government officials.
- Sometimes, though, those expectations can create concerns from standpoint of safety, efficiency, and order
- Every municipality has dealt with challenging citizen situations
- This presentation deals with difficult people and situations not necessarily aggressive or threatening people or situations – at governing body meetings
  - Dealing with aggressive or threatening people presents different issues and solutions, and requires special expertise

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenter, not of CAS.

Introduction
What's at stake here?
<ul> <li>A good meeting is a thing of beauty!</li> <li>But without appropriate regulation, good meetings can go</li> </ul> badbecome unruly, unproductive, or worse  With inappropriate regulation, liability can result
First Amendment rights apply to public participation in governing body meetings
"Content" restrictions or prohibitions are constitutionally problematic
- "Time, place, and manner" regulation is OK  - Dealing with actual disruptions is OK
First Amendment violations = civil rights liability and of the presentation which the same of the presentation and of CMs.
Introduction
In this session, we'll:
<ul> <li>Explore the challenges from which conflicts arise</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Talk about rules of conduct</li> <li>Discuss the role of the presiding officer</li> </ul>
- Consider some physical facility/space issues - Explore how "public comment" periods turn dysfunctional
<ul><li>Mention some legal tools and resources</li><li>Go through some scenarios</li></ul>
<ul> <li>YOU are the experts, so your participation throughout the session is welcomed and desired!</li> </ul>
CML
the proposition model that was of the prosesses and of Cold.  The proposition model that was of the prosesses and of Cold.  The proposition model that was of the prosesses and of Cold.  The proposition is the cold of the prosesses and of Cold.  The proposition is the cold of the prosesses and of Cold.
What types of challenging human dynamics do we deal with?
One-time complaints     Serial complaints
People who believe they have a right to something that is being denied them  General distrust, divisions, feuds, vendettas
• "Watchdogs"
<ul><li>One-time public controversies</li><li>Others?</li></ul>

CML

2

What creates challenging situations at meetings?

- · Political disagreements, personal disagreements
- Sense of entitlement or sense that rights are being denied
- · Belief that "City Hall" has done them wrong
- · Belief that City/Town is hiding something
- Belief that City/Town is corrupt, not transparent, not business-friendly, too cozy with certain interests, not citizen-friendly, etc.
- · They may be specifically looking for a "free speech" fight
- · Others?

W-1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 1848 - 184

What kinds of behavioral challenges do we encounter at public meetings?

- · Personal attacks against elected officials or staff
- · Yelling, cursing
- · Gestures, costumes, masks, disrobing
- · Messages on t-shirts, hats, etc.
- Speaking at inappropriate points on the agenda
- Speaking for longer than the time limit
- · You're being "baited" during public comment
- Going seriously "off topic," being highly repetitious or redundant
- Meetings are regularly lasting until 1 a.m. and "public comment" is consuming huge portions of each meeting
- · What else?

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenter, and of CML.

Groundwork: Have Rules in Place

- Rules of procedure/conduct will help you lay the groundwork for orderly public meetings
- · Rules should address matters such as:
  - Public comment period(s) placement on agenda, availability/non-availability at regular/special meetings, workshops, etc.
  - How to seek time to speak during public comment (e.g., sign-in sheet or sign-up card)
  - How to be recognized (called on by the presiding officer, come to the podium)
  - Time limits (on individual speakers and/or on total time allotted)
  - If you have them, you must be consistent in their use!
  - Prohibition on disruptions
  - Recess or adjournment for disruptions
  - Enforcement

"It's the people's government – let them talk for three minutes. I don't care if it's good, bad or indifferent. I don't care how silly or hurtful it is. It's our job to take it." Alderman Gregory Moisin, Waukegan City Council (Chicago Tribune, Jan. 7, 2016)
COLL  Statement of the presentation reflect the sines of the si
Rules
It's wise to have your rules reviewed periodically by your city/town attorney (unless you'd rather have them reviewed by the ACLU)
<ul> <li>Don't just "borrow" from other jurisdictionsyou may be "borrowing" constitutional problems!</li> <li>Example: "No person shall make any personal, impertinent, profane, insolent,</li> </ul> slanderous remarks."  Example: "No City employee shall be permitted to speak during public comment."  Example: "No person shall be permitted to speak on the topic of any litigation that the person has pending against the City.*  Example: "No person shall wear a mask or other facial cover, or attire containing profane or indecent messages, during Council meetings."
Example: "No person shall address a single member of the Council during public comment, but rather shall address only the Council as a whole."      Example: "No person shall make any complaints about or charges against any City staff members during public comment."
City staff members during public comment."  Communicate your rules! Most people don't want to violate the rules, but may not know what they are.
<ul> <li>Great example: https://bouldercolorado.gov/city-council/speaking-at-council-meetings</li> </ul> contents of this presentation reflect the sine of the presenter and of CMI.
Rules
. When establishing or revising rules, capaider what "outhurs" is in
When establishing or revising rules, consider what "culture" is in place now, and what you're seeking to change  Your community may be accustomed to and/or prefer meetings where public participation is less regimented, or where there's more public comment rather than less <ul> <li>Citizens may be accustomed to having an opportunity to speak on each agenda item, at workshops, and/or from their seats</li> </ul>
Rapid or radical changes may create culture shock and not sit well with the public     Changes that seem to be aimed at suppressing or limiting one
* Auguses man seem to be ambed at supplessing of illiming one particular person or faction may not sit well, either  If you're trying to move from chaos to order, accept the possibility

CML

"While the City Council has a right to keep its meetings on topic and moving forward, it cannot sacrifice political speech to a formula of civility."
Dowd v. City of Los Angeles
the control of the presentation reflect the sines of the presentation reflect that
The Presiding Officer
The Freshams officer
<ul> <li>Governing body presiding officer (Mayor) and commission chairpersons are crucial in maintaining order</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>A culture of civility flows from the top down – if members practice incivility towards one another or towards staff/citizens, they can expect incivility from citizens in</li> </ul>
return
<ul> <li>Practice/enforce what you preach in terms of repetition, meandering off topic, filibustering, and other things you would find undesirable in public comments</li> </ul> would find distessible in public comments
CML
Name of stands from the
The Presiding Officer
<ul> <li>Maintain a degree of formality at meetings – use titles, require that speakers come to podium to be recognized, etc.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>"Disarm" a tense situation. Don't match tone for tone. "Out-shouting" doesn't work.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>If a response is necessary, lower your tone to below the speaker's.</li> <li>De-escalate, don't escalate!</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Public speaking doesn't come easily for everyone; what may appear to be rudeness or defensiveness may actually be nervousness. Help the speaker feel comfortable.</li> </ul>

CML

Use non-judgmental language to get the discussion back on track
Instead of "Your remarks are irrelevant," try ""Quick reminder that is the topic under discussion; please try to keep your remarks to this topic."

Have a gavel handy, and don't hesitate to use it when necessary
What other suggestions do you have for maintaining/restoring order?

"It is asking much of City Council members, who have given themselves to public service, to tolerate profanities and personal attacks, but that is what is required by the First Amendment."
-- Dowd v. City of Los Angeles

The contests of the resembles reflect the same of the second sector CAL

How to Turn Public Comment Period Dysfunctional in One Easy Step

- Are "public comment" periods turning into "public inquisition" periods or "public argument" periods?
- What are the dynamics that are allowing this to happen?
  - "I feel I must respond to what you just said."
  - "I'd like to try to answer that question."

The country of the country of the country of the

Public Comment Period Dysfunction

- DON'T be baited into responding inappropriately when someone says something inflammatory
- You always have the last word (albeit maybe not immediately): you're the deciders!
  - You don't need to engage in argument, stop the offending remarks, or try to have the last word during "public comment."
- Have empathy, if possible! Don't demonize the speaker, because his/her reaction will be to demonize you.

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenting not of GML.

Public Comment Period
Dysfunction

- If you forget that you're the decider, things may escalate!
- Or you may be responding inaccurately and/or without adequate information
- Or you may be stepping into matters that staff is or should be handling!
- Or you may be setting up a community expectation of an instantaneous response to every question!

The contests of the recombined which the second the second of the

Public Comment Period Dysfunction

- Treat public comment as a primarily a one-way opportunity for the citizen to provide input TO you
- Be prepared to respond, if at all, in a way that doesn't put you on the spot with an immediate (and possibly inaccurate or inappropriate) substantive response
  - "I see that our City Manager is taking notes on your question. I trust she will get back to you just as soon as she's had a chance to research the issue...is that correct, Ms. Manager? (Manager nods yes). Thank you."

The control of the co

"We allow people to curse at the council. We allow them to wear dollhouses strapped to their heads. We aren't that tight on it. Yet we still have a constant battle over what is allowed."

-- Paul Koretz, Los Angeles City Councilmember (LA Times, February 23, 2014)

The contests of this presentation reflect the view of the presenter, not of GMs.

Public Comment Period Dysfunction

"In the future, everyone will be famous for 15 minutes." ~Andy Warhol

"In Council meetings, everyone gets to speak his or her mind for the allotted number of minutes." ~Tami Tanoue

- Don't try to suppress the content of citizen speech! It's not just unlawful, it's futile! People do not take well to being suppressed.
- Establish and communicate shared norms for meetings, e.g., "We appreciate everyone's viewpoints, but personal attacks are unproductive and unhelpful. I think we might understand your perspective better if you focus on the issues, and leave aside the personal attacks."
- But if such a "teaching" approach doesn't work, grit your teeth for the allotted number of minutes.

Public Comment Period Dysfunction

- You can deal with actual meeting disruptions. But YOUR disruptive response to someone's objectionable speech is NOT a disruption you can charge to the speaker.
- Example: Citizen throws 32 gallons of trash on the floor during public comment to emphasize the "littering" problem in the community. Disruption?
- Example: Citizen says, "You'll be sorry you cut me off after 5 minutes. Next time I'll bring my gun and use the Second Amendment to enforce my First Amendment rights." Threat?
- Example: During the pledge of allegiance, a citizen in the audience does the "Heil Hitler" salute. The mayor doesn't even notice, and goes on to the next agenda item. But one councilmember begins objecting loudly and insisting the citizen be ejected. Who's the disrupter here?

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenter, and of CMI.

Physical Facilities Considerations

- · Make sure you have a podium for speakers
  - Gives them a place to speak from that isn't their seats
- For public hearings, give each side a "home," with the podium being a "neutral zone"
- Consider a "buffer" zone in front of the dais, where there's no public seating
  - Might put staff in the "buffer" zone
- Consider public seating that's "ganged" or interlocked to control seating locations, maintain access routes, etc.

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenting use of Ch

	Physical Facilities
	For high profile or controversial agenda items, take special precautions  - Have overflow area with closed circuit TV, or schedule the use of a larger venue  - Arrange to have officers present and stationed at appropriate locations Uniformed, plainclothes, or both?  Presiding officer or members should be prepared to ask for recess if emotional tenor of meeting starts to get out of hand contin	TOTAL STATE of the presentation reliked the several the presenter and of CMs.  Statement of the presentation reliked the several the presenter and of CMs.
	Physical Facilities
•	Consider your "retreat" options for when you have to recess a meeting
•	Have a "retreat" path that does not require you to go through the audience – walking through an angry
•	audience is a lousy option!  Also consider "retreat" options for potentially violent situations – how can you make a quick exit?
•	Security audits available for CIRSA members
	CM
contin	ate of this presentation reduct the inner of the presenting and of Colds.  The presentation reduct the inner of the presenting and of Colds.
	Legal tools
	For actual disruptions, explore whether criminal charges could be applicable – some pertinent statutes include:  – CRS 18-8-102, Obstructing government operations
	<ul><li>CRS 18-8-306, Attempt to influence public servant</li><li>CRS 18-9-108, Disrupting lawful assembly</li></ul>
	<ul> <li>CRS 18-9-110, Trespass or interference in public building, hindrance of legislative body or executive proceedings</li> </ul>

• Also civil protection orders – CRS 13-14-101

Legal tools
BUTscrutinize intent, motivation before using legal tools  - Not even a hint of retaliation!
Concurring opinion in 2007 10 th Cir. decision (Shero v. City of Grove) noted that consternation and constant of the consternation and constant of the c embarrassment of public officials, who filed a declaratory judgment action against a vocal citizen, could have been indication of a governmental lawsuit brought for retaliatory reasons  Look for ways short of legal processes to resolve issues
if possible
The contents of this presentation reflect the since of the presentation reflect the contents of this presentation reflect the since contents of the contents o
"The city that silences a critic will injure itself as much as it injures the critic, for the gadfly's task is to stir into life the massive beast of the city, to 'rouse each and every one of you, to persuade and reproach you all day long.'" Dowd v. City of Los Angeles
(quoting Plato)
CMI
The contents of the presentation infect the since of the presentary, and of the
Other resources
<ul> <li>CIRSA Loss Control Department: Assists members with building security issues</li> </ul>
John Nicoletti, Nicoletti-Flater & Associates, is a national authority on workplace violence, and is located in Colorado  Keep in mind that this presentation deals with "difficult" situations, not those that have the potential for violence  – Violence and threats are on an entirely different scale of "difficulty," and may require other approaches
CML

Conclusion
<ul> <li>Dealing with difficult situations comes with the municipal territory</li> <li>Have rules and processes in place that will facilitate citizens' right and ability to give and get information without unfairly monopolizing your time and resources</li> <li>Fair and respectful treatment at all times</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Do not demonize someone because he or she is disagreeable, or has a disagreeable message</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Commitment to transparency</li> <li>Take a "teaching and educating" approach</li> <li>Respond to disruptive conduct, not to disagreeable statements</li> </ul>
Look for ways to de-escalate, not escalate, a volatile situation
The contents of this presentation reflect the lives of the presentation and cliebt.
Scenarios
<ul> <li>A citizen walks into a council meeting.</li> <li>He's wearing a baseball cap that profanely</li> </ul> expresses his opposition to law enforcement. Do you insist that he either remove his cap or leave the council chambers?
The contents of this presentation reflect the sines of the presentation reflect the sines of the presentation and distill.
Scenarios
A citizen signs up for public comment. He begins speaking calmly about a lawsuit he's pursuing against the Town. Do you shut him down on the basis that he cannot talk about his lawsuit against the Town during public comment?
CML
The scalarity of the president reflect the level of the president and CML.

Scenarios
<ul> <li>In the middle of your council meeting, 50 people march in. They stand in front of the dais holding up signs and chanting loudly:         "What do we want? Justice! When do we want it? Now!" What do you do?</li> </ul>
CML
The colonity of the presentation reflect the view of the presentant and CML.
Scenarios
<ul> <li>A citizen speaks during public comment.</li> <li>She believes that the police department, and particularly the Chief, are corrupt. She accuses him of fraud, destroying evidence in the evidence room, and tolerating</li> </ul> perjury by police officers. You are outraged and believe this is slander. What do you do?
The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the prevention and of CMI.  Short statement of this prevention and the prevention and of CMI.  Short statement of the prevention and the prevention and of CMI.
Scenarios
There's a public hearing on funding options for an upcoming holiday parade in Council District
7. A citizen has signed up to speak. He gets up and says, "Councilman Smith is an effing idiot." You tell him he's off topic. The citizen says, "I am on topic. I don't think you should vote to fund a parade in this effing idiot's district." Do you shut him down for being off topic?
The contents of the presentation reflect the view of the presentant and of CMI.

`	$\boldsymbol{\Gamma}$	Δ	n	a	ri	n	C
_	·	_		ч		v	J

 A citizen shows up at a council meeting wearing a white KKK-style hood on his head. He's told to remove it, and he explains he's protesting racism. He's told to either remove it or be ejected. He's ejected. How much is this case worth?

The contexts of this presentation reflect the view of the preventor, not of GML.

Speaker Bio

Tami A. Tanoue

- In-house General Counsel/Deputy Executive Director for CIRSA
- Previously in private practice with the firm of Griffiths, Tanoue, Light, Harrington & Dawes, serving CIRSA as its contract General Counsel for 12 years, and serving as City or Town Attorney for several Colorado municipalities.
- Previously Staff Attorney for the Colorado Municipal League, representing the collective interests of Colorado municipalities.
- Regular speaker on local government liability topics; author of several publications on liability issues.

Note: The information in this presentation is provided solely as a training resource, and is not a substitute for obtaining the advice of your City/Town Attorney on any legal question.

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenter, and of C

About CIRSA

- Colorado Intergovernmental Risk Sharing Agency
- Public entity self-insurance pool for property, liability, and workers' compensation coverages
  - Formed by in 1982 by 18 municipalities pursuant to CML study committee recommendations
  - Not an insurance company, but an entity created by intergovernmental agreement of our members
- Total membership today stands at 267 member municipalities and affiliated legal entities
- Out of 271 incorporated municipalities in Colorado:
  - 83% are members of our PC pool
  - 45% are members of our WC pool

The contents of this presentation reflect the view of the presenter, not of GMs.

٨	ha	+	. (	ID	C A
Δ	ו זו ו			IK.	$\Delta$

- Member-owned, member-governed organization
  - No profit motive sole motive is to serve our members effectively and responsibly
  - Have returned over $35,000,000 in contributions to our membership
- CIRSA Board made up entirely of municipal officials
- · Seek to be continually responsive to the liability-related needs of our membership - coverages and associated risk management services, sample publications, training, and consultation services, as well as specialty services such as home rule charter review
- We have the largest concentration of liability-related experience and knowledge directly applicable to Colorado municipalities

Tami Tanoue General Counsel/Deputy Executive Director CIRSA 303-757-5475

800-228-7136 tami@cirsa.org

www.cirsa.org

