Resiliency & Recovery Office

Governor John W. Hickenlooper

Colorado Resiliency & Recovery Office

Who Are We?

State of Colorado Support During Recovery

Long-term Recovery require a unified and coordinated effort from the State in support of local communities:

- Partnership
- Technical Assistance
- Financial Assistance
- Staff support
- Navigation of resources
- Advocacy

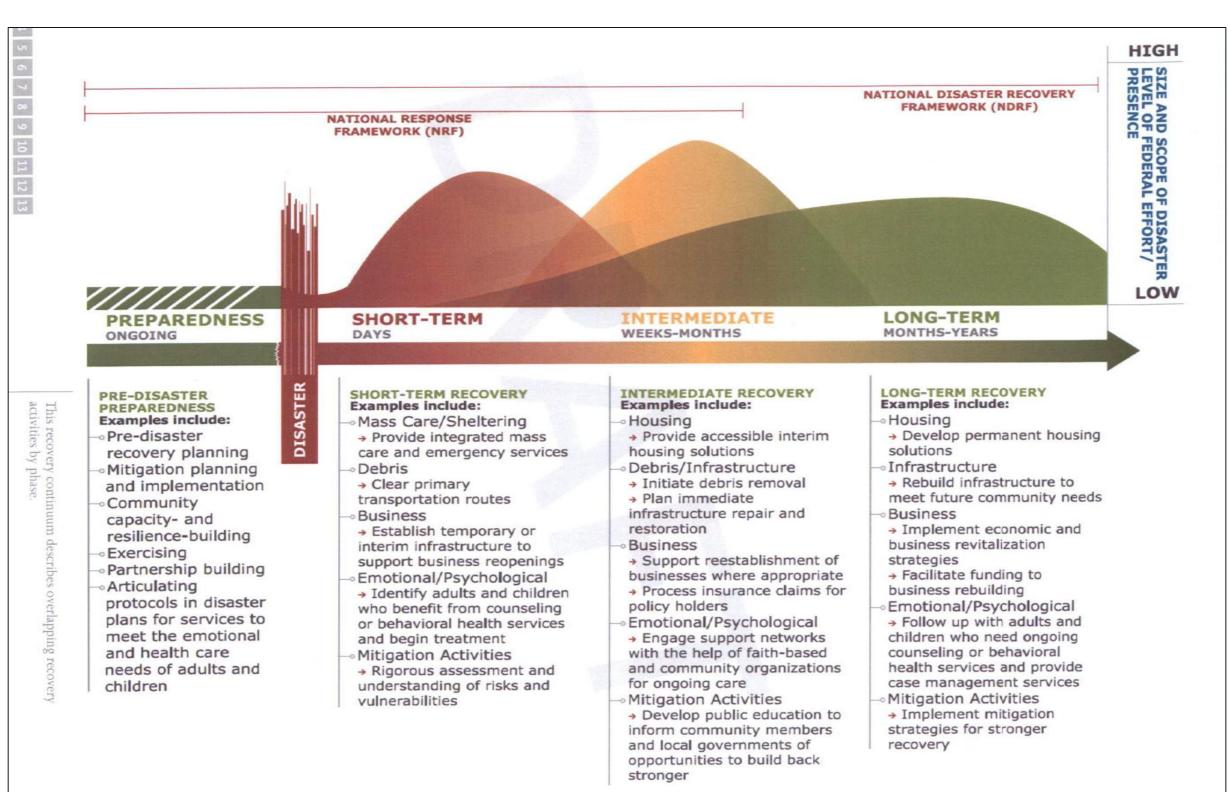

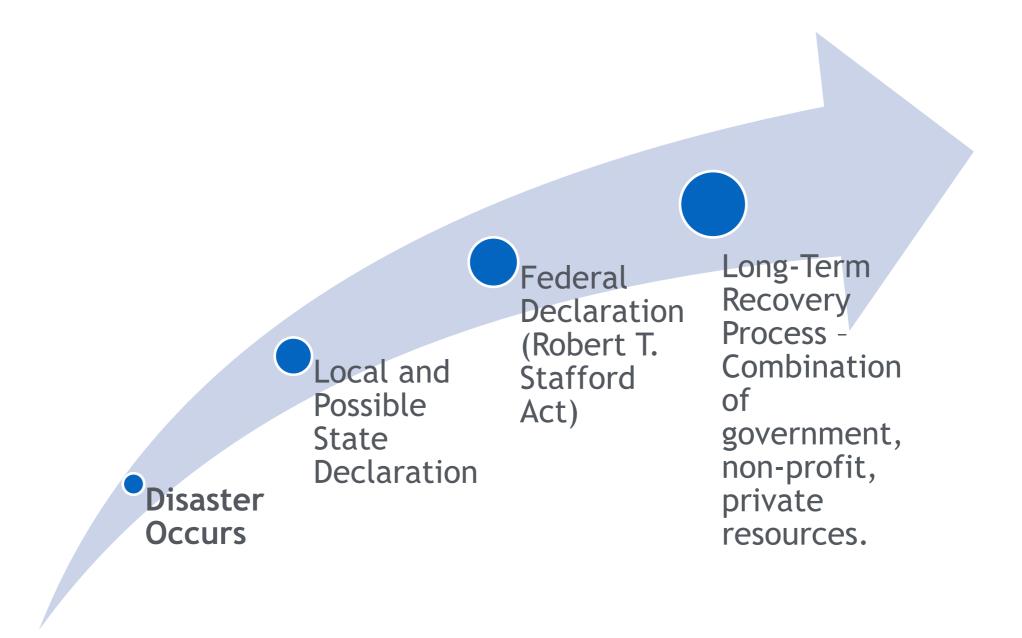

Timing of Recovery

Disasters - Process and Resources

Key Federal Agency Partners

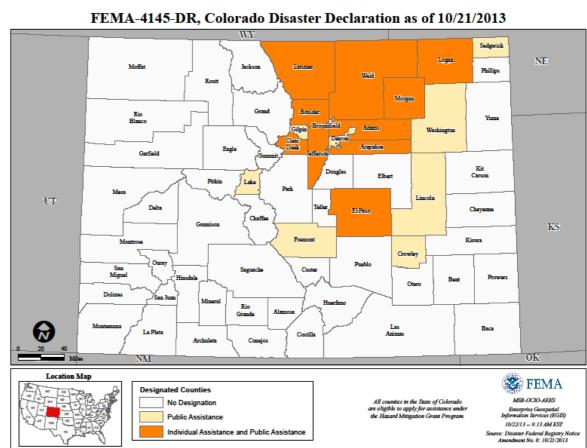

- FEMA
- Small Business
 Administration
- Housing and Urban Development
- Federal Highways
 Administration
- Environmental Protection Agency

- U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
- Economic Development Administration
- National Renewable Energy Laboratory
- USDA (Farm Services, Rural Development, Natural Resources Conservation Service, U.S. Forest Service)
- Department of Labor

Presidential Disaster Declarations

The exception - not the rule. Very difficult to get!

- Joint FEMA/State/Local Preliminary Damage Assessment required
- Thresholds and Indicators
 - Public Assistance:
 - Statewide indicator $1.39 per capita of uninsnured damage, county-wide indicator $3.50 per capita
 - Individual Assistance:
 - Factors evaluated include concentration of damage, trauma, special populations, voluntary agency assistance, Insurance, average amount of individual assistance by state

Common Federal Recovery Resources

Resource	How it Gets Triggered	Need it Meets	Matching Requirement	Timing
FEMA Public Assistance	Presidential Disaster Declaration	Emergency protective measures and infrastructure repair	75% Federal 25% Local/State	Short term, intermediate and long-term recovery
FEMA Individual Assistance	Presidential Disaster Declaration	Individual Needs - Housing assistance (rental, repair, etc)	N/A	Short-term, intermediate recovery
FEMA Hazard Mitigation Grant Program	Presidential Disaster Declaration - 15% of IA and PA total	Actions to reduce long-term risk	75% Federal 25% Local/State	Long Term Recovery and Resiliency
NRCS Emergency Watershed Protection Program	Damage Survey Report if Funds are Available	Addresses imminent threats to life and property	75% Federal 25% Local Sponsor	Short-term/ Intermediate Recovery
HUD Community Development Block Grants - Disaster Recovery	Presidential Disaster Declaration and Significant Unmet Need - Special Appropriation from Congress	Generally Housing, Infrastructure, Economic	No - Can function as match to other federal programs	Long-Term Recovery and Resiliency

State Resources - Colorado Floods

- State grant programs:
 - State Disaster Emergency Fund (DHSEM)
 - Energy and Mineral Impact (DOLA)
 - Natural Disaster Grant Program (CDPHE Authorized by Legislature for)
 - CWCB SB 179 (debris removal and watershed restoration, SB 245 (mapping of natural hazard areas), Watershed Master Plans, Technical studies
 - In recognition of the dramatic impact on local budgets, the Governor also authorized ½ non-federal match for FEMA Public Assistance, HMGP and NRCS EWP

Important Considerations when Mixing Federal Funding Sources

- Different rules, regulations, authorities and reporting requirements
- Duplication of Benefits
- Procurement, Davis Bacon, Etc.
- How can planning help?
- Environmental and Historic Preservation
- Timing, timing, timing

The Importance of Planning Pre and Post Disaster

Pre disaster:

- Establish systems, responsibilities, processes and procedures
- Interagency Coordination
- Procurement, Procurement!

Post disaster:

- Identify impacts and unment needs,
- Develop priorities and strategies
- Policies
- Projects and resources
- Engage the public

Important Considerations:

- Locally driven
- Community engagement
- Need to be strategic, tangible and achievable
- Timing
- Identification of resources

Resiliency - What is it?

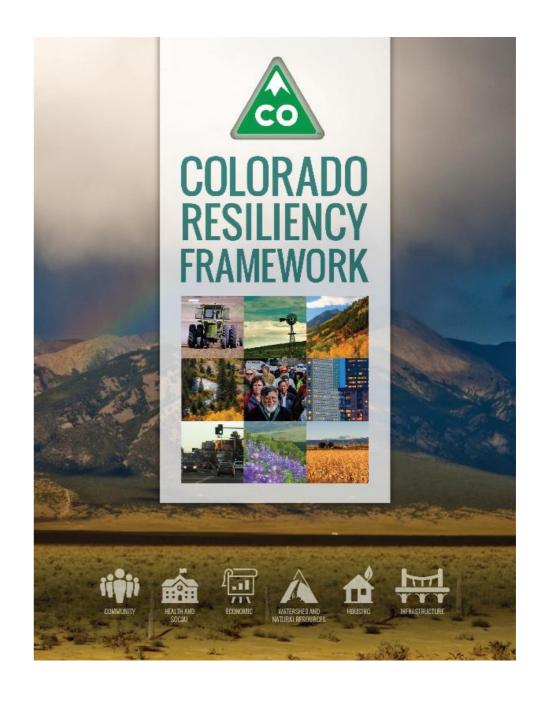

The ability of communities to rebound and positively adapt to or thrive amidst changing conditions or challenges — including disasters and changes in climate - and maintain quality of life, healthy growth, economic vitality, durable systems and conservation of resources for present and future generations.

- Colorado Resiliency Working Group

- Opportunity following the disaster to lessen impact to the community the next time around
- Opportunity before a disaster ever occurs to understand risks and vulnerabilities and implement strategies to strengthen resilience and reduce vulnerability
- Cross-sector and interdisciplinary: Community, Economic, Health and Social, Housing, Infrastructure, Watershed and Natural Resources.
- Multi-hazard: Colorado can be impacted by many disasters floods, fires, drought, geologic hazards, tornadoes, etc.
- Considers vulnerability: social, built environment, economic, environmental, trends in climate

Resiliency Resources

- Colorado Resiliency Framework
- National Disaster Resilience Competition
- Community Development Block Grant- Disaster Recovery (flood and fire declared counties eligible)
- CML/RMCO Local Resilience Project
- Existing pre-disaster programs
 - FEMA Pre-Disaster Mitigation and Flood Mitigation Assistance
 - National Flood Insurance Program
 - Community Rating System

Resiliency - Actions Communities Can Take

- Plan and coordinate regionally
 - Integrated planning (i.e. land use and mitigation, incorporate risk and vulnerability into economic development)
- Dedicate staff to resiliency
- Engage leadership
- Develop local resiliency strategies
 - Initial Pilot process summer 2015
- Prioritize and implement projects
 - Factor resiliency into community development and capital improvement efforts

- Invest in resiliency
- Evaluate and update local land use practices and codes
 - DOLA and UCD developing model land use codes that integrate hazard considerations
- Educate and engage community organizations and members
- Establish new or support existing networks
- Establish peer to peer relationships
 - Apply lessons learned to everyday practices
